Message from the President

We are an organization built on live networking, and with more than 30 local events each year, ACG Denver's commitment to measure and mitigate risk at our events for our members and attendees is steadfast. Your health is paramount.

As a chapter, we have cancelled all in-person events through the month of May. We are using that time to reschedule our 2020 Rocky Mountain Corporate Growth Conference and to develop spring and summer programming that will be most valuable to you.

We are also developing online content to continue to deliver timely information to you and your business as you navigate these uncertain times. We will quickly communicate with you on behalf of ACG's Public Policy team, including updates on stimulus efforts and other opportunities for you to weigh in on proposed legislation.

These unprecedented times call for us to do what we at ACG do best: come together as a community and lend a hand to those in need. With both students and employees working from home in the coming weeks and navigating very different routines, remember to practice patience. While in-person meetings are cancelled, we encourage you to touch base in other meaningful ways, from phone calls or virtual meetings to a quick note that lets someone know you are thinking of them.

Take care of yourselves, your family and those around you. Remember to be grateful for all the good in our world, even in these challenging times. We look forward to seeing you at our spring and summer programs.

In good health,
Joanne Baginski
President, ACG Denver

OPTION TO DONATE MARCH LUNCHEON REGISTRATION FEES

As a membership organization, we depend on those in the hospitality sector to make our events a success. Unfortunately, those are currently some of the individuals hardest hit by COVID-19 closures and cancellations. In lieu of a refund for the March Luncheon, you can choose to donate to the Colorado Restaurant Association's Angel Relief Fund. Contact acgdenver@acg.org by this Friday, March 20, at 8am to direct your refund there.

Rocky Mountain Corporate Growth Conference Postponed

Given current CDC and WHO recommendations on COVID-19, ACG Denver has made the decision to postpone the 2020 Rocky Mountain Corporate Growth Conference that was to be held on April 6-7. Our top priority is to ensure the well-being and safety of our colleagues and guests.

We will communicate the new conference date as soon as it is finalized, and greatly appreciate your patience and understanding as we navigate this situation. For those that were registered, we do hope that you will be able to join us for the rescheduled conference, and will automatically transfer your registration to it. If you have any questions, please feel free to reach our events team at acgdenver@acg.org
