BKD Releases COVID-19 Response Plan to Help Businesses

NATIONAL OFFICE – The effects of SARS-CoV-2 virus and the incidence of COVID-19 are causing massive disruptions across the nation. In response, BKD CPAs & Advisors created a guide to help businesses, individuals and communities navigate this unprecedented crisis. The plan includes a checklist of key considerations for business leaders that offers best practices regarding proactive communication, cash flow planning, relief options, tax provisions and cybersecurity.

“Our firm is very passionate about helping others, so we used our expertise to create a resource to help guide organizations forward in this time of uncertainty. We know that in addition to hope, we need strong leadership and tactics, and we aim to do our part in preparing organizations to potentially come out stronger on the other side,” said BKD CEO Ted Dickman.

During this uncertain time, many individuals may feel as if they’re in uncharted territory. This resource shares actionable items to help businesses mitigate risks. The guide serves to help business and community leaders go forward with positivity and confidence with practical objectives and goals.
