EST EST EST di
Montefiascone

Terres d'Alice, Beaujolais Village

Named after Pierre Andre's Great Aunt Alice, this beaujolais village is just like the late Matriarch - fun, flirty, easy going and appreciated by everyone. Fruity on the nose and palate, this gamay has a touch more weight thanks to some fruit sourcing from cru Brouilly. The nose is all creamed berries and bramble that translates to flavors of baked cherry pie, super ripe strawberries, sweet herb tea and enough spice and grip to let you know it's French. Pro Tip: put a slight chill on this one before drinking.

Petit Cot du Rin du Bois

Malbec with only 3 days of extraction! The result is a grape-y, fruity, light bodied elegant wine loaded with berry flavors and a silky mouthfeel.
